Great Sale of Black Goods: 1/4 to 1/2 Underprice

With the second week of August invariably comes this sale of Black Dress Goods—an event that provides you with the best qualities to be had, at the lowest prices of the year. Blacks are more or less staple. It is sometimes difficult to provide just the right sorts for a sale of this character—at under regular worth. But this year we've been more fortunate. The lots are exceptional—in both quality and value, and you'll buy a dress or two if you get to see them.

The Lowest Prices of the Entire Year on

White and Black HABUTAI SILKS

There are ten thousand yards in the lot. Neither the qualities nor the prices can be duplicated in any other store hereabouts. We took all a big manufacturer had and shall sell them at less than others pay for the identical kinds.

Habutai Silks are very popular, because of their lightness of weight; in fact, we count them the ideal Summer silk. You won't have to buy many yards for a dress, because of their width. We expect to sell hundreds of waist patterns as well.

3,500 Yards of Yard Wide Black perineation and water proof Habutai; regular $1.00 quality, at	59c	1,500 Yards of 27-inch Habutai, in black only; pure silk, of excellent quality; 69c. value, at	49c
2,500 Yards of Yard Wide Habutai, in white; pure silk; regularly sold at 69c; this sale at	45c	1,500 Yards of 27-inch Habutai, in white only; all pure silk; regular 50c. quality, for	35c

More of the Silk Eolienues at 28c.

Half of the lot reached us last Monday and hardly lasted through the day. We've as many more for to-morrow—while they last. Silk Eolienues that are positively worth Half a Dollar. 28c. the yard.

Important August Sale of Linens and Blankets.

No other time of the year is quite so good to buy Linens and Blankets as in August. The new Fall stocks are here; assortment is at its best. And to create busy-ness in an ordinarily quiet month we make the prices exceptionally low. Ready to-morrow—some specimen values are printed.

PAUL KELLYS AT WORK AGAIN.

MARCH UP TO POLICE HEADQUARTERS AND SMASH THINGS.

An Early Morning Outbreak—Storekeepers suffer—Then an Assault is Made on a Bawdy Restaurant—A Greek Pedler Attacked and Robbed—One Arrest.

Members of the Paul Kelly gang became active in the neighborhood of Police Headquarters early yesterday morning. Half a dozen young men began skylarking not a stone's throw from the big marble police building in Mulberry street. They hurled a large garbage can through the plate glass window of an empty store at the northeast corner of Houston and Mott streets and then threw a brick through the window of Levy's tailor shop across the way.

John Smith, a night watchman, heard the breaking glass and ran up to the window. Some of the glass came tumbling down on him and cut his arm so badly that an ambulance surgeon was needed.

The frisky young toughs moved over to the Bowery and entered the restaurant at 285. They amused themselves by upsetting the chairs of the few late diners. The disturbers made their escape before the police arrived.

A short time later Christos Collajanos, a Greek, who has a fruit stand at the corner of the Bowery and East Houston street, was set upon by six young men. They knocked him down, kicked him and smashed several of his ribs. He was so bruised about the head and body. A roll of bills amounting to $35 was taken from his pocket and then his assailants left him.

Policeman George Frey of the Fifth district station was told by a pedestrian that the Greek was being assaulted and robbed. He saw several young men running across the Bowery and caught one of them. The prisoner said he was William Windorf of 365 First street.

An ambulance took the Greek to Bellevue Hospital. Windorf was arraigned in the Yorkville police court on a charge of assault and robbery. Policeman Frey told Magistrate Corns that the prisoner was a member of the Paul Kelly gang and asked to have him held until the Greek was able to appear in court. This was done.

BROOKLYN POLICE SHAKE-UP.

Inspector Cross Has Two Captains Transferred and Detectives Sent on Patrol.

Police Inspector Adam A. Cross, in command of the force in Brooklyn and Queens, yesterday announced a shake-up of two captains and the reduction of the detectives in two precincts to the ranks. Capt. Thomas F. Maude of the Clason avenue station and Capt. Albert Rubenberg of the Richmond Hill station were ordered to change places, and all the Clason avenue precinct detectives were sent on regular patrol duty to other precincts. The detectives in the Hamilton avenue station, where Capt. Formosa is in command, were also put on patrol.

Inspector Cross had all the inspectors and commanding officers at both headquarters lined up in his office at the Smith street headquarters in the afternoon and gave them a sharp lecture on the way he expected them to do police work. He told them that they would be held personally responsible for the suppression of all gambling and disorderly houses in their precincts and that the most vigorous kind of a fight was to be kept up all the time against poolroom men and dealers in policy.

USHERED COL. WATTERSON IN.

Mayor McCellan's Grandfather Assisted at Important Event.

Col. Henry Watterson did not know that Mr. McCellan was away on his vacation. Col. Watterson said that he had known the Mayor all his life and that the Mayor's grandfather, Mr. McCellan, had helped to bring him (Col. Watterson) into "this world of joy and politics."

Entire Income for Life to W. H. Teller's Widow.

The will of William H. Teller, who died at Lenox on July 15, was filed for probate here yesterday. It disposes of an estate valued at $225,000, most of which is in realty. The widow, Maria C. Teller, inherits all his personal effects, horses, carriages, etc., and is to enjoy the income of the residuary estate for life. On her death the estate will be divided among a number of the relatives of the testator. Mrs. Teller and Edward M. and Robert W. Teller are named as executors of the will.

PEACEMAKER STABBED.

Young Man With Good Intentions Comes to Grief in Brooklyn.

Frank Kraus, 37 years old, of East Ninety-second street, Canarsie, was stabbed and badly beaten yesterday when he attempted to act as peacemaker between two fighting Italians at Eastern Parkway and Bergen street, East New York. The fight resulted after a bicycle collision. The combatants were punning, each other vigorously when Kraus interfered.

"Quit your scuffling," said he. "If you don't, some cop will come along and arrest you."

At the same time Kraus managed to separate the men, but he had no sooner done so than both turned upon him. One whipped out a knife and slashed him across the face, while the other began kicking him.

A crowd then took part in the affray and beat of the Italian. Policeman Harry Harrison of the Liberty avenue station, after a chase, arrested one of them, who said he was Thomas Detriolo. Kraus was so badly injured that he needed the services of an ambulance surgeon.

POLICE AFTER FISHERMEN.

Lunch Patrols Jammed Bay to Keep Seine Operators Away.

Seine fishermen have become so daring in Jamaica Bay that the police department has sent a launch to patrol there, and yesterday the policemen had their first chase. Some fishermen had set their nets in the bay of Rockaway Inlet, but they quickly weighed anchor when they caught sight of the police launch and escaped through the inlet in their powerful auxiliary sloops.

CENTURY PLANT A-BLOOM.

You Can See the Flower To-day at Central Park Conservatory.

A century plant in blossom may be seen to-day in the conservatory in Central Park. Attendants will be present to give a welcome to as many of the owners of the plant as may appear.

The plant burst into flower yesterday morning. The flower will have faded by to-morrow morning.

The nearest entrance to the conservatory is at Fifth avenue and 106th street.

JILTED, SHE WANTED TO DIE.

Girl Whose Sweetheart Had Married Another Jumps Into the River.

Nineteen-year-old Annie Hirsch, the daughter of Solomon Hirsch, a tailor of 125 East 110th street, tried to drown herself early yesterday by jumping into the East River at the foot of 110th street, because her sweetheart had thrown her over and married another girl. She was rescued by Martin Carroll and Bernard McDermott, watchmen, and taken to the Harlem Hospital.

The young woman is good looking, and her parents say that three years ago she met Martin Price, a young man who lives in the neighborhood. They became engaged, but a year ago Martin met another girl he liked better, and the Hirsch girl saw less of him. The Hirsch family learned one day that Price had married the other girl. Annie became very despondent, and some of her girl friends teased her about having been jilted. She invited some of her chums to a party at her house on Friday night, but after they left she was even more despondent.

When her parents retired she left the house. She was without shoes or hat and wore only a light wrapper. She walked to the pier and met Carroll, one of the watchmen. He asked her what she wanted at that hour, 1 o'clock in the morning.

Just then Carroll had to go to his office on the pier to answer a telephone call. The girl jumped overboard, but Carroll lost no time in getting into a rowboat. He caught the girl by the hair and pulled her into the boat. McDermott helped them ashore.

When she had been revived she said she was sorry that she had not killed herself.

SPOOKISH ANTIQUES REFUSED.

Collected by Blacksmith Mahatma, Who Walks Through Space.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5.—Thomas Welton Stanford of Melbourne, brother of the late Senator Stanford, has offered to donate to Stanford University a collection of antiquities which, he says, were collected for him from Egyptian tombs by the astral body of a blacksmith mystic, who took only twenty seconds for the round trip from Egypt to Australia.

The name of the blacksmith medium or mahatma is C. B. Ray, and it is said that some of the leading scientists of the world believe in his work as a commiser with the inhabitants of the astral world and his ability to perform seeming miracles.

Dr. Jordan, president of the university, has made it clear that this collection, the list of which includes many articles of great value as antiquities, will not be accepted, leaving his objection on the open record of the method of its collection.

Murderer Drowns Himself in a Ditch.

PLYMOUTH, Ind., Aug. 5.—After shooting his wife in the heart and killing her instantly, Jacob Reed, sixty years old, a farmer living west of this place, threw himself face downward into a ditch which contained about fifteen inches of water, and drowned himself. Domestic trouble is the supposed cause. Reed had been married only three months. He came from Chicago several years ago, where he was a policeman for fifteen years. He was wealthy, owning several farms in this county.

FRANK B. GILBRETH,

GENERAL CONTRACTOR,

ARCHITECTURAL and ENGINEERING CONSTRUCTION.

NEW YORK. 34 West 26th St. BOSTON. 176 Federal St.

IT WAS A COSTLY BRICK.

Happy Papa Fined $5. to Be Paid in Fifty Cent Weekly Installments.

George Sperling, the truck driver who tore off half of Jacob Becker's ear with a brick in a happy moment after learning that he was the father of a boy on Friday, found himself in more trouble yesterday. Magistrate Breen had agreed to let Sperling off if he would pay Becker's doctor bill, and Sperling was ordered to report if he had kept the agreement.

When he appeared in the West Side police court Magistrate Pool was presiding. The latter was not familiar with the facts in the case, and when he learned that Sperling had hit Becker with a brick he fined him $5. Sperling, unprepared for such a turn of events, was being led back to the prison for a five days separation from his heir, when someone suggested to Magistrate Pool that there were mitigating circumstances.

"If that's the case," said the Magistrate, "we'll make it easy for him, though it's too late to remit the fine."

Thereupon the prisoner was recalled and put under probation to pay the fine in ten weekly installments of 50 cents each.

FOUND DEAD IN A TUB.

Mrs. Burnstein Thought She Would Be Safe From the Fire.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 5.—Mrs. Rebecca Burnstein, a young mother, was suffocated by smoke during a fire in the Russian bath establishment of her brother-in-law, Nathan Cooperman, at 415 Monroe street, at 1 o'clock this morning. Her baby was rescued by Israel Cooperman, a young boy. Mrs. Burnstein's death was a peculiar one. Having an opportunity to flee by the fire escape, she became confused and ran to the window of the room, which was within a foot of the fire escape, and screamed for help. Young Cooperman ran back up the fire escape. He took Mrs. Burnstein's nine-month-old infant in his arms, and calling to the mother to follow, descended to the street.

Mrs. Burnstein, instead of following the lad, turned to the back of the house and reached the second floor through the smoke and flames. She here found her escape cut off, ran into the bathroom and jumped into a tub in the vain hope of saving her life. The firemen found the body when they had extinguished the flames on the second floor.

TWO SMALLPOX CASES.

Both Harlem Negroes—One Had Been Ill for Two Weeks—No Other Cases.

Two cases of smallpox were discovered in 14th street between Seventh and Eighth avenues last Wednesday. The victims are colored men, brothers, who lived together.

The one who first contracted the disease suffered so little that he attributed the eruptions on his face to eczema. He had been ill for nearly two weeks before it was found he had smallpox. Meantime he had worked in many places, cleaning windows and doing odd jobs. Then it was found that his brother also had smallpox.

Both men were sent to the contagious ward of the Kings County Hospital in Brooklyn. Every house in the block in which they lived has been inspected and every tenant examined once a day by inspectors of the Health Department.

So far no new cases have been found. The inspection will be continued for twenty-one days.
